Re: Package Delivery Scam

On April 6, a resident of William Way reported that she observed a black male take a package that had been delivered and left at the front door of the home across the street. He then entered a blue van with New York license plates that was being driven by another black male. The man that took the package was described as missing many teeth.

There have been numerous similar reports in the north New Jersey area of black males operating a van with New York license plates. It is believed that they are having iPhones and other merchandise shipped to different addresses. They then check the delivery tracking system and take the packages shortly after delivery. Wyckoff Chief of Police Benjamin Fox advises residents of the following: If you have a package delivered to your home address that is not in your name, contact the police. If someone comes to your door looking to get a package that they claim has been delivered, after the person leaves your door immediately contact the police. If you observe any suspicious vehicles, especially vans with New York license plates, call the police.
